Franklin Said He Would See Darrow Darrow Not Legally Brought Into Case

"Lockwood's testimony does not bring Clarence S. Darrow legally into the case," said District Attorney Fred-ericks. "It is hearsay and nothing more. We will proceed with prosecu-tions only on evidence which will stand in court of law."

Saw $500 Passed to Lockwood. Saw $500 Passed to Lockwood.

Franklin underwent his preliminary earing here today before Justice oung. The case aroused great interst because of the uncertainty as to ow much might be developed outside of Franklin's own case. C. E. White estified that Franklin came to him and sked him to be a stakeholder of $3,00 to be paid Lockwood at the end of the trial. When they met Lockwood, as said, $500 was passed, the $3,500 was passed, the $3,500 was passed, the $3,500 was passed, the $3,500 was passed.

White testified that Franklin came to him one day and related that the prosecution in the McNamara case was using thousands of dollars to gain a conviction, and that he, as an employe of the defense, was going to use the same tactims. White declared that Franklin said: "There is an old friend of ours on the panel. I had long talks with him and convinced him the McNamaras were innocent, and I have also told him a few thousand dollars would come in handy. "We have already two accepted jur-ors with us," said Franklin, accord-ing to White's testimony.

Lockwood Corroborates White. Lockwood followed on the stand and corroborated White's testimony. Lockwood declared he rejected Franklin's proposal, told District Attorney Fredericks, and the following Saturday, after his name had been drawn from the jury wheel, allowed Franklin to reopen negotiations on advice of the district attorney. The first offer Lockwood said was of $2,000; the final one of $4,000.

Darrow Knows Nothing About It. Judge McPherson said, in excluding the paper, that in his personal opinion the paper ought to be admitted, but that he had to abide by the federal law. State laws admit such paper, but they are not admissible in the federal courts except where they have some direct relation to the case. When apprised of the testimony in the Franklin hearing, Attorney Dar-row said: "Whatever Franklin and Lockwood said, I know nothing at all about it. I had nothing to do with 'getting to' jurors in any way."

Union Officials Believed to Be Playing

Without opposition, it was explained, letters and records have been conveyed by detectives engaged by the erectors association from the head-quarters of the iron workers association in this city to the office of the United States district attorney.

"No promises of immunity to men suspected of complicity in the dynamiting conspiracy have been made by the government," said Charles W. Miller, the district attorney. "Put, of course, we will accept evidence from quarters of the iron workers' association in this city to the office of the United States district attorney.

"No promises of immunity to men suspected of complicity in the dynamiling conspiracy have been made by the government," said Charles W. Millet, the district attorney. "But, of course, we will accept evidence from any direction to be presented to the stand jury when it resumes its session next Thursday."

"I have got the evidence from the office of the ironworkers' association," said Detective Robert Foster of the Frectors' association. "But I will not say who turned it over to me. Cerpainly, if it had been necessary we could have obtained a search warrant and made a raid, but this was not recessary."

Valentine Schoenberger, a postal inspecter, who investigated the case, testified to suspicion of Miss DeWitt. He sent for her and after getting her to pen print four lines at his dictation in the presence of her attorney, he said he accused her of writing the letters. She denied it, he said, and she told him she also received some of the letters. With this testimony the govcriment offered her sample writing in avidance and the court relacted it.

SAT ON MURDER CASE

Kensas City, Mo., Dec. 11.—A mis-dal of the second trial of Dr. B. darke Hyde, charged with killing Col-Clarke Hyde, charged with killing Col. Themas H. Swope, appears probable tonight. Made desperate by the sight of two of his children, from whom he had been separated for six weeks, in the courtroom last Saturday, Harry Waidron, one of the jurors, escaped from the jury's hotel quarters early today. While Frank Jasper, a deputy county marshal, who was on guard slept, Waldron pried open a nailed transom, crawled through the opening, tiptoed to a fire escape and leaped fifteen fest to freedom. The entire city police force and a dozen deputies from the county marshal's office have searched in vain for him since his absence was noted near daylight.

Jury May Have to Be Discharged. Jury May Have to Be Discharged.

If Waldren is not found by tomorrow night, the other eleven jurors will be discharged, Judge Porterfield said today. Or if the missing man is traced and he cannot prove that he has not discussed the case during his absence, the same action will be taken. Should he return in good health and swear he had mentioned the trial to no one and the court is satisfied with his explanation the trial will proceed. on, the trial will proceed.

May Have Killed Himself.

May Have Killed Himself.

Fear that Waldron has killed himself is growing. He was in a highly agitated state when last seen on Sunday night, as indeed he had been almost every day since he was chosen a juron. He objected to serving when he was first selected, saying his business would not permit of his absence. Later he was taken ill and begged for his wife and children. After that his wife wrote him daily and he seemed more contented.

FEAR OF STARVATION

They Can Be Reached-22 Bodies Taken from Mine-Aiding Needy.

Briceville, Tenn., Dec. 11.—Five miners, alive and well, were taken from the Cross Mountain mine tonight. Though prisoners in what had been expected to be a tomb of more than 100 men rince Saturday morning, they seemed little the worse for their experience. They are: William Henderson, aged 55. Milton Henderson, aged 22, his son; Irwin Smith, aged 35; Arthur Scott, 30; Dave Irish, 30. How They Saved Themselves.

How They Saved Themselves.

They are all married and their wives had almost given up hope of ever seeing any of them alive. Immediately after the explosion they rushed to cross entry No. 19, where they quickly threw up a brattice which kept out the black damp which killed many of their fellow workmen. They took their lunch patts with them and subsisted for three days and two nights on what they expected to make their Saturday noon meal.

Relatives of Others Rush to Scene Relatives of Others Rush to Scene.

News that live miners had been found spread quickly through the town and relatives of other men who had been keeping vigil at the mine's mouth until all hope had gone rused again to the scene. Soon ropes stretched to hold back all but workers were again being strained by the throng of anxious watchers.

Others May Starve. Until tonight 22 bodies had been removed and but 20 cross entries had been explored. The rescuers are encountering great obstacles in penetrating the cross sections, and it is feared that even should more be allve in the far recesses of the workings it will be impossible to reach them before they starva.

Abandoned Hope Revived. Another rescue car arrived from Pittsburg today, so there are plenty of helmet men on the scene. Finding of the five men tonight revived an abandoned hope in the breasts of these workmen, and now they are pushing shead with all possible speed, hoping to find more men alive.
